THE STAR.

The STAR enters to-day upon its thirtieth volume. The growth of Washington has rendered necessary its enlargement to its present dimensions, as explained in its columns not long since. Our city's substantial progress has been even greater since the close of the war than during that most eventful period of the country's history, which altered, here, as elsewhere, not a few prevailing ideas, customs. methods, and modes: thus, to a greater or less extent, changing influences pervading society. Everywhere in the loyal States these changes have wrought the development of latent industry, enterprise and capability, the exisence of which had not been dreamed of. The application of this newly developed basis of national and individual prosperity is compensating the country for its sacrifices and trials in preserving the Nation intact by force of arms. Nowhere is the beneficial influence of this new state of things more apparent than | eration in the Southern States would, without in our own midst. The fact that some fitteen hundred houses will be erected in and around Washington in the course of the current season, and the additional fact that our population has more than doubled since 1860, prove ance of stationery, and the privilege of purdres incontestibly how much these events have | chasing rations from the nearest United States done and are doing for the Federal Metropolis It is not too much to say that they have thus doubled the value of every foot of real estate | are paid by the Government, but those institu. in the District of Columbia, as well as the | tions are intended to be self-sustaining.

earnings of most men within its limits, living on wages.

The STAR, which from the commencement of its career has seduously sought to build up the Federal Metropolis and advance the substantial interests of its population, has not been anmindful of the practical results here of the wonderful progress mentioned above. It has ote steadily, and it trusts efficiently aided in making it available to the labor and capi. tal of the District of Columbia. In this work it has met detraction and denunciation with- on the accumulated work, and in a few out stint from those sympathizing with the months will be able to keep the current work purpose of the rebellion-the destruction of evitably have involved the utter annihilation of the value of every description of Washington city property, and the means of livelihood of all in the District living by labor of any description. It is not too much to say that no other journal in the land did more by its stendy, intelligent and efficient adherence to the Union cause throughout the war, to defeat the aims of those who would have brought utter destruction upon this city especially. Nor is it egotism in us to add that the STAR has been of great value to the interests of the District when and where involved in the action of those who, by the law, have exclusive control over its affairs. It will continue to regard the interests of the District, one and all, as the primary object of its existence and efforts, feeling confident that as heretofore this community, without distinction of party, will duly appreciate its labors in their behalf.

HOW THE COLORED SCHOOLS ARE SUP-Many persons suppose that the teachers of the various schools for colored people-adults and children-in this District and throughout the South are paid from the funds appropriated by Congress for the Freedmens' Bureau. This is a mistake. Not one cent of the public funds is expended for such a purpose. The teachers are employed and paid by benevolent societies in the Eastern, Northern, and Western States; the principle association engaged in this laudable work being the "American Freedmen's Union Commission." of which Chief Justice Saimon P. Chase is president, Wm. Lloyd Garrison, one of the vice presidents, and Wm. Allen Butler (author of "Nothing to Wear,") the legal adviser. The main office of the association is in New York. with branch offices in Boston, Philadelphia Baltimore, Chicago, Detroit, and San Francisco. The second article of the constitution of this society sets forth that the " object of this commission is the relief, education, and elevation of the freedmen of the United States, and to aid and co-operate with the people of the South, without distinction of race or color, in the improvement of their condition upon the basis of industry, education, free. dom, and Christian morality. No school or depot of supplies shall be maintained from the benefits of which any shall be excluded because of color." Without the aid of this and similar associations, the great scheme of free and popular education now in successful opdoubt, soon come to an untimely end. The only aid furnished by the Freedmen's Bureau to the teachers is transportation to and from their fields of labor, quarters, a small allowcommissary at Government rates. Some of the superintendents of the industrial schools

WORK AT THE PENSION OFFICE. The immense business of this office is progressing in a most satisfactory manner. The clerical force was considerably increased by the act of March 2, 1867, and at present embraces 260 employees of all grades, a force entirely adequate to meet all the public demands, and to dispose of all pension claims as fast as the claimants and their agents can supply the evidence requisite for a correct adjudication of the claims. During the past few the office has madela most gratifyings gain promptly dispatched. Every position provided by law is filled, and the office hopes soon to be able to diminish its present force. The following is an exhibit of its work during the month just closed. The large num. ber of rejected claims reported is due to the fact that a large number of claims heretofore regarded as suspended have recently been reexamined and rejected, in evidence adduced since they were placed on the suspended file of the office The whole number of claims received during the month, original and increase widows, &c., were 2.546; invalids, 1.312; total, 3858. Number of claims admitted, original and increase widows, &c., 3 276; invalids, 1.345; total. 4.621. Number of claims rejected, original and increase widows, &c., 682; in valids, 3,938; total, 4,620. The whole number of claims disposed of during the month was 9,361. The whole number of letters written was 8,644; number of circulars sent, 24,730. In the Bounty Louis Division, 53 warrants of (60 acres each were issued, 1 of 120 acres; whole number of warrants issued, 54, covering 850 acres.

THE VISIT OF THE PRESIDENT TO ANNAPO. LIS .- The ceremonies and the speeches attending the visit of President Johnson and Secretary Seward to the capital of Maryland on Saturday last, in acceptance of the hospitalities of the State tendered by the Constitutional Convention, were of an interesting character. The President happily referred to the fact that t was from the legislative chamber in An. napolis, where Washington resigned his commission-where he laid down the crown of power at the feet of the people—that the sug gestion first went forth, when it was found hat the old articles of contederation were not sufficient in strength for safety, for the formation of that constitution under which we live and which was designed to secure a more perfect union. Drawing his conclusions from the observations which he has had opportunity to make recently, both in the South and North. he declares that the masses of the people in each are friendly towards one another, and hopes that the era of good feeling is about to be restored. The other speeches also were of more than ordinary interest, and that of Mr. Seward quite suggestive as to the rising power of the great West, admonishing the Atlantic States, North and South, to unity and reconciliation. After partaking of a banquet in the afternoon at the Governor's Mansion, the President came on to this city.

NEW MAIL ROUTES .- Besides the new South ern service, about hundred miscellaneous routes, created under various acts of Congress in the several States, or by some means not under regular contract, will be started to-day. Affairs in Georgetown.

SHOOTING ON THE VIRGINIA SHORE .- SATURday night Liz Ridgly alias Tom Hyer, a noted colored prostitute, gave a dance at her ranch on the Virginia shore near Fort Corcoran, and it resulted in a row. County officer Veitch tried to quiet the parties, and attempted to arrest one of the most disorderly. The crowd overpowered him and set to work upon him. He to defend himself fired a revelver. This checked the low, and Veitch called upon the Military for aid. The rioters defied the Military, who fired upon them: a ball passed through the arm of one named George Mahoney, and into the body of Griffin Burke killing him instantly. Several of the rioters were arrested and taken to Alexandria for trial. MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE.-The Exchange rooms opened with a fair attendance of merchants this merning, but the transactions were unimportant. Offered-225 bushels wheat, 3,200 bushels corn. Sales of 225 bushels red wheat at $2.65, and 500 bushels yellow corn at $1. No flour offered: Market unchanged. SENECA QUARRIES. - This morning, two scows loaded with material for the works at Seneca quarries, started from here. The work is under the supervision of Mr Choppin, carpenter and builder, who carries up twenty laborers and ten mechanics, and expects to complete the buildings within 30 days. THE CANAL.-The Collector's books show a total or receipts from tolls during the month of June to be $14,121.16. There were 560 arrivals and 572 departures. PORT OF GEORGETOWN .- Entered-Schoon
